4. President’s Report

President Simon provided the following report to the Board.

A. Mitchell and Rhodes Scholars

Cynthia Jackson-Elmoore, Dean of the Honors College, presented the two MSU students who were selected as Rhodes and Mitchell Scholars.

Clara Lepard, a recent MSU Honors College graduate with a degree in zoology from the College of Natural Science, was named a Rhodes Scholar.

Celia Hallan, an Honors College senior majoring in international relations in the James Madison College and environmental geography in the College of Social Science was named a Mitchell Scholar.

President Simon congratulated both recipients for their outstanding accomplishments. She also offered congratulations to each of the Board of Trustees Award scholars. She stated that MSU takes great pride in the accomplishments of this extraordinary class of students, and that she looks forward with anticipation as they begin impactful careers, carrying on Michigan State University’s tradition of excellence in advancing knowledge and transforming lives.
B. Commencement

President Simon noted that MSU is pleased to welcome three distinguished speakers to participate in Commencement events and receive honorary degrees.

Cynthia Pasky, founder and CEO of Strategic Staffing Solutions, or S3, will address graduates at the 10 a.m. ceremony tomorrow and will receive an honorary doctorate of business.

Priya Balasubramaniam, vice president of iPhone operations at Apple Inc., will speak at the 2 p.m. ceremony tomorrow and will receive an honorary doctorate of engineering.

Also at that ceremony, Henry Regier, professor emeritus at the University of Toronto, will receive an honorary doctorate of science.

Michael VanRooyen, director of the Harvard Humanitarian Initiative, will address graduates at the advanced degree ceremony held at 3:30 p.m. today. He will receive an honorary doctorate of humanities.

At that ceremony, Carl Folke, director of the Beijer Institute of Ecological Economics, will receive an honorary doctorate of science.

C. University achievements

The 2017 CASE V Awards were announced, and CABS received several awards. The work around “Your Tomorrow” is in the Platinum category for “Best Practices in Communications and Marketing.” CABS won a gold for the 2016 President’s Report from this spring, a gold for Excellence in Photography for the MSUToday feature, A Seat at the Table, and Best Viewbook gold award for the completely redesigned MSU viewbook.

The MSU Department of Agricultural, Food and Resource Economics is ranked fourth in the world for its excellence in the agricultural and applied economics profession.

Financial Times ranked the Broad College’s Executive MBA program in the top 10 U.S. public programs.

The Kellogg Hotel & Conference Center won Best Lansing Area Hotel by MSAE members. This is the second annual Association Choice Awards and Kellogg’s second year winning.
D. Faculty and Staff Achievements

Rachel Croson, dean of the College of Social Science and Foundation Professor of Economics, is the 2017 recipient of a national award honoring individuals who have furthered the status of women in the economics profession. The Carolyn Shaw Bell Award is presented by the American Economic Association’s Committee on the Status of Women in the Economics Profession.

MSU's game design program has been ranked number one in the Big Ten.

E. Student Achievements

Team Apero, comprised of MSU students and students from around the world, was awarded the gold for its campaign during CommArtSci's Minds Wide Open.

A team of four MSU students from the Sales Leadership Minor won the National Team Selling Competition October 12–13 at Indiana University.

E. Athletics

Former MSU All-American wide receiver Kirk Gibson was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame at the 60th annual National Football Foundation Annual Awards Dinner.

F. Facilities and Infrastructure Report

Dan Bollman, Associate Vice President for Strategic Infrastructure Planning and Facilities, presented the Facilities and Infrastructure Report. The report is available at www.ipf.msu.edu.

G. Statement on Nassar

President Simon made the following statements on issues relating to Larry Nassar.

Last week, Larry Nassar was sentenced to 60 years in federal prison. He will spend the rest of his life behind bars.

When the verdicts were issued on the criminal charges, I was relieved that a modicum of justice had been provided to those so deeply hurt by his crimes.
I felt that the top priority from the beginning was for the MSU Police to expend whatever time, energy, and resources were necessary to help bring Nassar to justice. I want to again express my respect and appreciation for those officers who worked tirelessly to accomplish that goal.

Over the past months, I have been intensely focused on making sure nothing interfered with the criminal investigation or bringing Nassar to justice. I also have been focused on taking steps to strengthen every part of MSU's operations, policies, and procedures that might in any way be improved to prevent something such as this from happening again.

Since Fall 2016, MSU has engaged external experts to comprehensively review the MSU HealthTeam, the Title IX program, and how medical services are provided to student-athletes. We have restructured reporting lines, strengthened mandatory reporting compliance, and, in the case of youth protection, created a new position. Details about this work are available on the Our Commitment website.

As I have said before, it is critical to build a culture in our community where victims feel they can speak out confidently knowing their voice will be heard. It is only when brave women such as those here today are prepared to step forward that our community will be safer from the plague of sexual assault. Without your courage, Nassar would not be behind bars. Thank you.

I am truly sorry for the abuse you suffered, the pain it caused, and the pain it continues to cause today. I am sorry a physician who called himself a Spartan so utterly betrayed your trust and everything this University stands for.

5. There was no Public Participation on Issues Germane to the Agenda.

6. Personnel Actions

Provost Youatt presented the following personnel actions:

Moore, Anna, AN– Professor, Department of Radiology, College of Human Medicine, $240,000, with Tenure, effective January 1, 2018.

Toomajian, an employee in the Office of the Executive Vice President for Administrative Services, and members of their families, have, or have options to buy, an interest in the company.

Pursuant to State law, the Chair of the Policy Committee is requested to give public notice of the University's intent to negotiate contracts with Dr. Tama Hamilton-Wray. Dr. Hamilton-Wray is an Assistant Professor in the Residential College in the Arts and Humanities.

10. Compensation Committee

Trustee Mosallam presented the Trustee Compensation Committee Report.

Each year at this time, the Board of Trustees considers the President's compensation consistent with section 4a of the employment agreement between President Simon and the Board. The Compensation Committee has met for that purpose.

Earlier this year, the Board conducted its annual evaluation of the President, and it believes she continues to excel on the performance criteria established by the Board. President Simon has the Board's full support of her leadership of Michigan State University.

In recognition of President Simon's many extraordinary contributions to the University, in the spirit of President Emeritus John A. Hannah, the Board directs the Provost to appoint President Simon as a John A. Hannah professor with all of the rights and privileges associated with a Hannah professorship.

Further, the Board believes that the President's strong performance merits a salary increase of five percent consistent with the raise provided this year to the University's highest performing faculty. In lieu of taking that raise, the Board and the President have agreed that the Board will transfer a like amount to the Roy J. and Lou Anna K. Simon Scholarship Fund to be administered as a scholarship for first-generation college students.

The Board applauds the commitment that Drs. Roy J. and Lou Anna K. Simon have made to give back to the University through generous, regular, and substantial financial contributions. Based on their cash and estate giving, the Simons are members of MSU's Joseph R. Williams Society. The Simons' current cash gifts to MSU exceed $1.4 million.
Therefore, the Compensation Committee recommends, and I move, that the Board of Trustees directs the Provost to appoint the President as a John A. Hannah professor. Further, the Board of Trustees directs that $150,000 is to be transferred into the Roy J. and Lou Anna K. Simon Scholarship Fund.

Trustee Mosallam moved to approve the motion, with support from Trustee Ferguson.

THE BOARD VOTED to approve the motion.

11. Trustee Comments

Trustee Breslin made the following statement on behalf of the Board of Trustees:

Last week, former MSU physician Larry Nassar was sentenced to the equivalent of life in federal prison. We are deeply saddened by the stories of abuse that led to this moment and grateful for the courage the victims showed in coming forward. We are genuinely sorry for what happened to you and express our deepest sympathies to each and every one of you, particularly those of you here today.

To express our concern for and commitment to the brave young women, we are establishing a $10 million fund for counselling and mental health services and instruct the MSU leadership team to accomplish this with the utmost urgency.

Over the past 15 months, since Nassar's criminal actions were first brought to our attention, the Board has been focused on understanding what work we can and must do to provide a safer campus environment. As President Simon said earlier, we have taken a hard look at areas where we can improve and acted quickly and decisively. Whether it is the MSU HealthTeam, our Title IX program, how medical services are provided or how we protect youth on campus, steps have been and continue to be taken to better serve our MSU community.

We understand and respect the public's desire for information and details about these matters. However, we are still engaged in civil litigation, and it is simply not appropriate in most instances to offer specific details while that process continues. Our hope has been and continues to be for a fair and just resolution.

What we can state emphatically is that it is simply not true that there has been any kind of cover-up. From the outset, we have directed our counsel to report immediately to us and to relevant law enforcement any knowledge of criminal behavior. We stand before you today and tell you that no such person has been identified to us.

We hope you understand that when we push back against accusations made by plaintiffs’ lawyers about the university, and the University defends itself in the civil litigation, it is not a reflection of our view of the victims, for whom we have the utmost respect and sympathy, but our desire to set the record straight and to protect MSU’s educational and research missions.

Finally, we would like to thank the MSU Police Department, FBI, Attorney General, and the US Attorney for their roles in bringing Nassar to justice and reaffirm our full confidence in and support for President Simon and her leadership during this difficult time.

Trustee Mosallam apologized for the pain Larry Nassar’s victims have endured and affirmed that the Board is more concerned with the safety of women and girls than with the MSU brand.

Trustee Kelly affirmed his full confidence in the justice system and stated that he has no objections to the public stating their opinions regarding the Board. Trustee Kelly also stated that he will make the best decision to the best of his ability according to the information received. He also apologized to the victims and their parents.

Trustee Foster stated that she is confident that no one at the University is or was hiding anything regarding the Larry Nassar investigation. She also thanked President Simon and Dr. Roy Simon for their leadership and generosity to MSU.

Trustee Byrum apologized to the victims for what they experienced and wanted them to know that she is listening to them. She stated that she is committed to changing the systems that allowed a predator such as Larry Nassar to exist.

Trustee Perles said that he expected all investigations to be done in an honest manner.

Trustee Lyons apologized to the victims and reiterated that the Board would put the victims before concerns regarding the MSU brand.

Trustee Ferguson thanked President Simon for her leadership.

12. Public Participation on Issues Not germane to the Agenda.

A. Child and Athlete Safety
Lisa Lorincz, the mother of a Larry Nassar victim, spoke about her daughter’s experiences and the effects of her abuse. Ms. Lorincz stated that it is important to focus on change in order for the University to heal.

Kaylee Lorincz, a victim of Larry Nassar, spoke about the abuse she suffered. Ms. Lorincz said that she was referred to Larry Nassar at age 11 for treatment after experiencing back pain due to gymnastics training. Ms. Lorincz said that the abuse still traumatizes her.

B. Me Too; Nassar investigation

Jessica Smith, a victim of Larry Nassar, spoke about the need for change on campus and the need to help those who were hurt. Jessica asked MSU to have integrity and ownership of negligence for what has occurred.

Hannah Thomas, Michigan resident, spoke of the necessity of an external investigation into the Larry Nassar case after litigation ends. Hannah spoke about how many women who shared their stories about abuse from Larry Nassar were silenced.

Morgan McCall, a victim of Larry Nassar, stated that MSU has failed to protect many women, but still has the opportunity to do the right thing. Ms. McCall called for transparency and for the release of any documents associated with the internal investigation.

Anna Cumming, Michigan resident, urged the Board to hold itself accountable for Larry Nassar’s actions, and to acknowledge and act upon the reports of survivors. Ms. Cumming stated the need for the University to evaluate itself and hold those who were complicit in Larry Nassar’s abuse accountable.
13. Request to Adjourn

On a motion by Trustee Ferguson, supported by Trustee Breslin, THE BOARD VOTED to adjourn at 11:05 a.m.

Respectfully submitted,
